dBug is an educational nonprofit group made up of professionals, hobbyists and others who use, and really enjoy, Macintosh computers.

Founded in 1984, dBug volunteers have spent the past 23 years building a base of information that will benefit almost any Mac user.

If you live in the Seattle area and use a Mac, or any of the neat stuff Apple keeps coming up with, you are invited to stop by our Resource Center on Saturday mornings.

The dBug Cafe

The perfect way to get started. Every Saturday morning from 9.00am to 12.00pm you're invited to the Cafe for coffee, donuts and all sorts of Mac-related activity. Bring questions, new/old machines, something you've been working on or a few hot rumors. And be sure to ask for Henry.

The Resource Center

9620 Stone Ave. N. Seattle

The RC is the location of the Cafe, our Main Meetings, and other special events. It's two blocks east of Aurora, a tick south of 97th, and an elevator can take you to the second floor. There are lots of Macs, a high-end projection system for showing off your latest project, wireless, of course, and a fractional T-1 connection to the internet — fast downloads for system updates.

The dBug ExChange BBS

The ExChange is our online community. Members get an email account, access to general and special interest discussion groups, a dBug classified section and tons of thoroughly vetted software and updates.

Mentor's Folder Here's the cream in the coffee. You can post a tech question to this folder on the ExChange and expect a reply with in hours. Spend the time going through the Best of the Mentors folder stocked with lots of tips, FAQs and not so FAQs.

dBug Membership

20¢ a day, $6.25 a month, or as we prefer, $75 a year. For Seniors it's $60 and for Family Members (anywhere in the U.S.) it's $50. You'll have access to the ExChange BBS, Special Interest Groups, the MacNews newsletter, presentations at MainMeetings, Special Events, Swap meets and picnics. And of course, there's one more thing. Members have access to the Macintosh User Group Store with its discounts on Apple factory-refurbished computers, used and pre-tested Mac equipment, special offers from third party vendors, closeout or discontinued merchandise and Apple logo merchandise. More info on this can be found at: www.applemugstore.com

To Join

stop by the dBug Cafe or

Go to dbug.org

It's another part of the ExChange online community. Event updates, Mac headlines and complete information about the organization, including online signup.

And remember, the dBug Cafe is open to everyone each Saturday. Stop by and bring a friend.
